

A Book as a Xmas Gift

Children's Holiday Books

NO CHILD'S CHRISTMAS IS COMPLETE WITHOUT BOOKS.

For List of Children's Books, Classified According to Age, See Woman's Page To-day.

In the case of children there can be no room for doubt. Whatever toys they receive, a Christmas would be INCOMPLETE for them WITHOUT BOOKS.

Great minds have been telling them tales since the infancy of the race. Many of these tales have survived to this day with undiminished popularity. The critical verdicts of children are UNERRING, and there is no appeal from them.

They, in a phrase much condemned by critics of a larger growth, "know what they like." They always have known, and from the nursery to their earliest teens at least, what they like has never been subjected to change. To the old classics they have added new ones, however—from Æsop to Grimm, from him to Andrew Lang.

The literature of childhood is an inheritance handed down from parents to children and grandchildren in unbroken succession. For, whatever literature we may forget in later years, the favorites of our own childhood never fail to come to mind when it is a question of making a new generation happy, of introducing it to the beguilement of pictures and easy rhymes, to the enchantment of wonderland, the cave of Robinson Crusoe, Stevenson's treasure island.

It is with its entrance upon its second decade of life that childhood proves that it is necessarily in advance of its parents and rela-

New Books for Boys and Girls

The Book of Athletics
Edited by PAUL WITHINGTON
With many reproductions of photographs and with diagrams. Net, $1.50
Nearly thirty college stars and champions, men like Dr. Kraenzlein, Thorpe, Ketchum, "Sammy" White, "Eddie" Hart, Ralph Craig, "Hurricane" Yost, Jay Camp, Horner, Jackson, F. D. Huntington, R. Norris Williams, "Eddie" Mahan, and many more tell the best there is to tell about every form of athletic contest of consequence.

Lost in the Fur Country
By D. LANGE
Illustrated. Net, $1.00
Mr. Lange is an expert in the very difficult art of interesting boys and girls profitably, and has proved it to a very wide circle by his previous books. "Lost in the Fur Country" is also an Indian story. While quite different from the other two, it has the same elements of popularity, mystery, peril and daring told in graphic style.

Dave Porter in the Gold Field
By EDWARD STRATHEIMER
or the Search for the Landslide Mine
Illustrated. $1.25
This is the record-breaker of all the "Dave Porter Series," hard to achieve as that distinction is. It is a stirring tale of the mining regions and of the many perils of the great Rockies.

When Max Came
By EDNA A. BROWN
Illustrated. Net, $1.20
This is the story of Max, who did not wish to visit his New England cousins, and of Hope, who was certain that she could never like a boy who had been brought up in Europe. The story will appeal to both boys and girls of high school age, and like the other books by this author, is distinguished by a marked literary quality.

John and Betty's Irish History Visit
By MARGARET WILLIAMSON
Fully illus'd from photos. Net, $1.25
The "history visits" in England and Scotland by John and Betty have become so well known that great enjoyment will be expected from a similar trip in Ireland, and there will be no disappointment. True Irish wit and many a pleasing fairy tale enliven the pages.

Dorothy Dainty's Visit
By AMY BROOKS
Illustrated. $1.00
The name of "Dorothy Dainty" has grown to be a household word wherever there are little girls, and each new book of this series seems better than the last.
